

C2: Communication: Communicate ideas in writing and orally, following standard conventions of the discipline

1) What we learned about students' learning

In all of our classes, we want students to practice effective written and oral communication, whether it be oral presentations to peers, papers written on assigned topics, or merely asking questions in class. We have chosen to focus our assessment of this outcome within our Senior Seminar (CS195). We have decided to establish CS195 as our program's GE course since it will
